

Privacy Policy

Your privacy is as important to us as it is to you.

For us to do our job there is some personal information we need to collect, the obvious things like your name, date of birth, current and previous addresses, telephone/mobile phone number, email address, credit card details, occupation, driver's licence number and your Locall Australis username or password.

Your Personal Information

By providing your personal information to Locall Australis, through our web site, our representatives or otherwise, you agree to the collection, use and disclosure of that information in accordance with the Federal Government's Privacy Act.

We collect information to make sure you are who you say you are. We may also use personal information for related purposes such as:

- maintaining our relationship with you, including responding to your questions;
- helping us to identify and inform you about other products or services that are likely to be useful for you;
- approving an application;
- internal accounting and administration;
- protecting you and Locall Australis from error and fraud;
- preventing a serious credit infringement;
- understanding our customers' needs.

Protecting Your Personal Information

We understand that you have placed your trust with us when you provided this info. Locall Australis also knows you would feel violated if your details were shared without your consent.

At Locall Australis we will do everything humanly and technically possible to make sure your private info remains your private info.

Our techs have taken stringent measures, in accordance with respective Government legislation, to guarantee that all information provided is kept confidential and secure. Provisions are also in place to ensure that your personal info is only viewable by those personnel within the organisation that have the appropriate security clearance.

Disclosure and other legal bits

Under no circumstances will Locall Australis sell members' information. The only time information is disclosed to a third party is when it is related to the provision and/or improvement of services or if Locall Australis is required to do so by Australian law.

In both cases, under strict guidelines Locall Australis will preserve members' privacy. Our third party suppliers will not contact Locall Australis members unless expressly requested to do so by the member themselves.

Checking out Your Personal Information

You can see what details we have for you by visiting the Members Area on the website. You can also use the Members Area to update any of your details may have changed.

Cookies

Cookies are simply small text files that are automatically saved on your computer when you visit or interact with a website.

These pieces of information are applied to our site to enhance its functionality to save you having to input the same information time and time again.

Changes to Locall Australis Privacy Policy

This is an ever evolving industry and from time to time we will introduce new products and services and accordingly, our policies may also change.

Locall Australis reserves the right to change this Privacy Policy at any time and notify you by posting an updated version of the Policy on its web site. The amended Privacy Policy will apply between us whether or not we have given you specific notice of any change. We encourage you to review this Privacy Policy periodically because it may change from time to time.
